Report:

This is the event organized by the Dr. D Y Patil College of Pharmacy Akurdi, Pune aiming towards providing their students to showcase their extracurricular talents. It helps the participants in overcoming the stage fear and a chance to perform in front of the live audience!

Singing competitions are events where talented individuals showcase their singing skills and compete against each other. Participants usually perform songs in front of a panel of judges or a live audience. It's great platform for aspiring singers to gain exposure and potentially launch their music careers. These competitions often have different rounds, including auditions, callbacks, and finals, etc. It's always exciting to see the incredible talent that emerges from these competitions.
